Profit from the growing artificial lawn market

- Unpredictable weather makes it hard for many people to maintain a lawn. Lawns are turned into swamps by children or pets, or ruined by hose-pipe bans.
- An ageing population means more people are rejecting the workload of a conventional lawn.
- Increasing demand for roof and patio gardens in cities creates demand for artificial grass.

No Financial Outlay Necessary

You do not need to buy artificial grass in advance or hold any stock because we can deliver direct to your customers. However, if you wish you can hold stock to deal with impulse purchases.

What We Will Do For You

- Direct delivery to your customers
- No need to carry stock
- Free, space-saving display stand
- Free brochures and samples for potential customers
- Free training
- Full product support
- Product promoted by national advertising

Extra Profit from Installation

Many artificial grass purchasers install it themselves, but some hire a landscaping contractor to do the installation.

If you want you can just sell the artificial grass - or you could just increase your profit by offering an installation service: full training is available.

Extra Profit from Your Website

If you have a website, artificial lawn surfaces are an ideal product to sell on it. We can deliver to your customers anywhere in the mainland UK and we can provide images and other information for your site.
